

"Northeast Ohio's Electronics Future"

presented by

Joseph P. Keithley
Chairman, President & CEO
Keithley Instruments

Joseph Keithley is chairman of the board, president and CEO of Keithley Instruments Inc., which designs, develops, manufactures and markets complex electronic instruments and systems geared to the specialized needs of electronics manufacturers.

In addition to his responsibilities at Keithley Instruments, Joe has been a tireless champion for the importance of electronics to Northeast Ohio's technology and economic future. In his roles as vice-chairman of NorTech, a trustee at Case Western Reserve University and Chairman of Ohio ICE, the Cleveland State led research consortium, Joe has developed an informed and insightful vision of where Northeast Ohio is going and where it could go with respect to our electronics industry.

NineSigma, one of the evening's sponsors, will provide a brief overview of the growing open innovation movement and how it affects the electronics industry.

DATE: Wednesday, June 21, 2006

TIME: 6:00-8:30 p.m.

LOCATION: Cleveland State University, Mather Mansion, 2605 Euclid Avenue

COST: Free

WHO: Northeast Ohio electronics professionals, from design engineers to CEOs

RSVP: To Melissa Shrewsberry at melissa@nortech.org or call 216-274-6186

Please join us for this enlightening, thought-provoking presentation and have an opportunity to network with other Northeast Ohio electronics professionals.

Sponsored by:

Cleveland State University

NINΣTM
i n n o v a t e

